Profile

Direction Informatique is the only French language publication for information news and analysis, that is timely, concise, relevant and unbiased on the events that really matter to its readers – the people responsible for establishing information technology strategies for their organizations.

This list is comprised of subscribers to Canada's French language newspaper serving Quebec-based management and professionals in the information systems/data processing and telecommunications departments of corporations, governments and educational institutions. And all have given permission to receive third-party email.
